

Charter of Aqua Dyn Auroville *Thaneer Pandal * The Gift of Water*

Charter for a Company of the 3rd millennium whose vocation is to improve human health the fundamental wellbeing and right of every person.

Concept I

“When light is unified with water, it creates pure Life”

Thus it is with Sun and Water; their union is the gift of the Life and Pure Beauty.

Let us build our future on this example – with the gift of living water and in gratitude for this exchange, let us find our joy.

Concept II

“The 21st century will be spiritual or will not be (exist)” prophesied the great visionary André Malraux.

We believe that true spiritual movement is born of pure emotion, itself generated by the expression of Beauty in all its forms and the shared feeling of Goodness, Justice and Truth.

Plato considered these three values the basis of an ideal society...

This belongs to all of us through the value of our engagement and the actions which result form the foundations of this new company, the expression of a living and concrete spirituality.

Concept III

We recognize the new discoveries of the Sciences in the 3rd millennium, which are aligned with our fundamental intuition that Unity is the basis of Matter and Life.

It rests with all of us to change our Consciousness in order to discover and reveal the unity behind apparent divisions, just as the infinite multiplicity of the rays of light, which are unified at the center of the sun or the billion water molecules in the a dewdrop.

We help ourselves in this awakening that will naturally form the outlines of human unity, thus allowing the birth of a New World.

Vision and Action

These three concepts require an engagement and in the context of Auroville, this engagement motivates and justifies the requirements and the existence of Aqua Dyn.

Commitment I

Aqua Dyn – Auroville, through its motivations and activities, engages itself to take part in the demonstration of this great Dream – Utopia, of an ideal and fraternal society. And to do so with all the goodwill of “Universal Citizens” (including Aurovilians), who want to be the stakeholders in living this Dream.

Commitment II

The Gift of a pure and living water summarizes our objective and engages de facto a new ethic which we will define in the following points:

Commitment III

Continuous research into the quality of water more attuned to the physiological needs of the body.

The bio-dynamised water that we produce is biocompatible water.

Commitment IV

To produce this quality of water, we use biotechnologies and certain natural materials combined with the most sophisticated technologies.

An objective quality label certifying pure and living water accompany each machine.

Commitment V

The individual’s value is fundamental; his evolution is the key to every human endeavour.

All the structures of production must be established according to principles of “good will”, of mutual respect for each others’ competence, of evolutionary growth determined by the needs of the market, in the spirit of joyous and harmonious participation by all.

Commitment VI

The purchaser must be entirely satisfied with the machine and the quality of the water produced in terms of wellbeing and health. He is a collaborator of the production company and distribution networks and thus helps achieve this result.

Commitment VII

An economy of “knowledge” must replace the current economy of “profit” in order to replace exploitation by the spirit of participation and with knowledge of the product and its beneficial effects on the body and health.

The concepts of goodness, justice and truth must underlie all action undertaken.

Commitment VIII

The evolution of knowledge requires a constant and evolutionary research on our part for the quality of the product, which must be accompanied by information necessary for the comprehension and participation of the user-consumer.

Commitment IX

In securing the satisfaction of the user we hope that a willingness to assist and share, through financial support, the implementation of collective installations for the benefit of the population in villages or towns.

Thus a chain of mutual assistance and co-operation could be created encircling our beautiful blue planet: The birth of Human Unity through the Gift of Water and Knowledge.

(*) “Thaneer Pandal” is an ancient Indian Vedic and Dravidian concept, which means “The Gift of Water”; the very basis of a human and humane society.
